Introduction

We believe that a funeral is a personal and meaningful occasion where you choose what happens. Whether you need to make the funeral arrangements for a loved one now, or would like to make funeral plans for the future, we hope you find these pages useful.

We don't expect you to make every decision about the funeral during the initial consultation. You may want to take a bit of time to consider some matters further, or consult with your family or other people. Please remember most arrangements can be changed at any time at your request, provided they have not already been completed. Should you wish to alter anything once you have looked through this brochure, please do contact us.

There is perhaps no other experience in life which can compare with losing a loved one and because we understand this, we ensure that our colleagues, business practices, premises and vehicles are all of the highest standard possible to support you and your family during, and after this difficult time.

Please note the pictures within the brochure are for illustration purposes. Colours of products may vary to those shown. Due to volatile shipping, manufacturing and material costs varying, prices are subject to change and are correct as of 1 January 2022. Final prices will be agreed with you before any orders are confirmed/placed.

Personalising the funeral service

There are many different ways a funeral can celebrate the individuality of the person who has died. We have a wide range of options to help you personalise the service in a unique and fitting way.

Music for the funeral service

Many local crematoria have a media library system where you can select your personal choice of music to use during the service. Music does not have to be limited to classical pieces or a hymn. Favourite pop songs, musicals and even music recorded by a family member can personalise the funeral service.

With enough notice, we are able to arrange musicians and/or a choir for the funeral service. Some examples include bagpipes or a bugler.

Please ask us for details of cost and availability.

Remembrance video

For family members or friends who are unable to attend the funeral, or for you to keep as a memory of a poignant day, we can arrange for the funeral to be recorded on DVD/USB drive/stick.

Our professional videographers are able to discreetly capture all elements of the funeral, from the flowers to the cortège, in a sensitive and considerate manner, ensuring that everything is captured for you to reflect on at a later date.

Includes attendance time at one service venue (church/crematorium/natural burial ground etc) for up to 90 minutes and all post-production and editing.

Please note the permission of the officiant and the venue will need to be obtained in advance.

Committal at sea

The burial or scattering of a loved one's cremated remains at sea can be a memorable way to honour those who enjoyed life on the water. This may be the perfect option for a loved one who may have been a former member of the Royal or Merchant Navy, a member of the Coastguard or a lifeboat crew, a fisherman, keen yachts-person or simply lived by or enjoyed the sea.

The Maritime Volunteer Service

The Maritime Volunteer Service is a uniformed national charity that performs dignified committals at sea. Formed in 1994, they have over 400 members in more than 30 units around the coasts and estuaries of the United Kingdom.

The service itself takes approximately 15-20 minutes and can be tailored to suit the religious and philosophical beliefs of your loved one, including any personal eulogies.

Cremated remains can be buried or scattered at various latitude and longitude locations which the Maritime Volunteer Service can advise on. The craft will circle the area immediately following the service allowing you moments for private prayers and to cast flowers or wreaths into the sea.

Ashes into space

Aura Flights

How do you celebrate a departed loved one who spent their life exploring and adventuring? We are all made of stardust. So when the time comes, why not let our dust return to the stars?

We've partnered with Aura Flights to offer a truly unique experience - a cremated remains scattering service... in space! Created by the world's leading 'near space' flight experts, the flight system carries cremated remains to the edge of space via a custom-made balloon and scatters them in a gentle cascade using a unique, purpose-designed scattering vessel.

With the environment in mind, the balloon and all equipment is fully recovered and disposed of and, where possible, recycled responsibly.

Carried around the world by stratospheric winds, the cremated remains of your loved one will circle through the heavens before finally returning to Earth in rainfall and snowflakes over many months. The ascent and moment of release can even be captured on video and made into a beautiful memorial film for you to treasure and share.

Voyager launch

If your loved one was always on the move, an explorer or adventurer, then the Voyager package allows you to send them on the ultimate final journey and realise a lifelong dream of traveling to space. We launch a small portion of the ashes on one of our monthly shared flights. The ashes are then transferred into a premium miniature urn and returned to you, along with a certificate noting the details of the flight and an image of the unique view from peak altitude. The launch is available to view online live.

Memorial launch

£2,950

Celebrate your loved one's final journey with a beautiful, personalised video memorial of the launch and releasing of their ashes in space. The Memorial launch is conducted from our dedicated site in the countryside outside Sheffield, UK. The launch is available to view online live.

We can also make arrangements by post, phone, video call or email, if preferred.

Aftercare: cleaning, maintenance and more

Pre-paid funeral plans

Provide peace of mind for you and your family with a pre-paid, inflation-proof funeral plan

None of us like to think about the end of life, but by planning ahead, we can spare the people we love from difficult decisions at a painful time.

A funeral plan can be tailored to your individual needs so you can choose exactly what you want. The cost is guaranteed and totally inflation proof – protecting you and your loved ones from ever rising costs.

✓ Tailored to your individual needs

We recognise that making funeral arrangements in advance of need involves making many important decisions. We believe you should have the opportunity to make those important decisions yourself and have the time to think carefully about what you and your family want.

✓ No hidden costs

A pre-paid funeral plan guarantees to provide the exact funeral services paid for with no hidden charges or conditions. Whether the funeral takes place in five or 50 years time, there will be nothing left to pay.

✓ Flexible payment options

We offer an easy payment scheme to spread the cost from one year to a maximum of ten years through monthly instalments, securing the cost for a fixed monthly payment.

✓ Protection from rising funeral costs

The average cost of a funeral has soared well above the rate of inflation and is expected to rise further over the coming years. Our pre-paid funeral plans are 100% guaranteed against inflation from the moment your full payment or first monthly instalment is received.

✓ Your money is safe

All funeral plan monies are safeguarded. All monies are invested in a regulated whole of life insurance policy in accordance with the Financial Services & Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001. We're regulated by the Funeral Planning Authority (FPA) who are there to ensure providers of funeral plans meet the stringent Rules and Code of Practice. This scrutiny gives clients reassurance that if you buy a plan from us, a FPA registered provider, you will get the funeral you've paid for when the time comes.

Bereavement support

Bereavement Care
talking • caring • supporting

When someone you love has died, there is so much to do: organising the funeral, contacting family and friends, notifying people of the death and dealing with the estate. It is only after the funeral has taken place that many people begin to come to terms with their new situation. Family and friends may offer help and companionship, but they lead their own lives too. For those whose families have grown up and left their parents to have families of their own, it is an especially difficult adjustment. We have developed our unique and experienced Bereavement Care because we understand just how hard this time can be.

Bereavement Care is a free service designed to support individual needs, and is open to anyone in the community, not just people who have used our services.

The team

We are a small team of experienced and trainee counsellors who share a wealth of experience in helping and supporting the bereaved. The team has worked in funeral services for over 20 years and has qualifications in counselling and mindfulness. Together we can help to support you and the community in which we serve in a variety of different ways free of charge.

Our free services

One-to-one bereavement support

You can come along and talk to one of the Bereavement Care team in a safe, confidential and private environment.

Bereavement wellbeing groups

The purpose of groups is to provide a time and place where you will be able to meet with other people who are experiencing the effects of bereavement and will understand something of how you are feeling. The groups meet once a month in different areas.

We also offer video call, email or telephone bereavement support.

Educational sessions

These workshops are aimed at organisations who want to have a better understanding about the funeral process, the stages of grief and how to help or work with bereaved people.

The Bereavement Team is available to give talks about all aspects of bereavement and the funeral profession. These educational sessions can take place online or in person.

Championing responsible business

Our business has always had a purpose beyond profit, working together with others for the benefit of our communities.

Underpinning this is our commitment to championing a responsible and different way of doing business, one that has a positive impact on society, the local economy and the environment and plays its part in creating a fairer society and sustainable future.

Our environment

We are proud to be supporting initiatives to make our funerals and our business more environmentally sustainable. In fact, 100% of the energy from our funeral homes comes from renewable sources.

Climate action

Southern Co-op is committed to playing its part in tackling the climate and ecological challenges we now face, so we are urgently cutting greenhouse gas emissions and making space for wildlife and nature recovery. A new fully electric hearse is now part of our End of Life Services vehicle fleet alongside other hybrid vehicles. Many of our funeral homes have smart meters to help improve energy efficiency and we have rolled out LED lighting to all our funeral homes. We have invested in solar panels at a number of sites and have introduced a new approach for recycling in our funeral homes. We are also encouraging colleagues to identify energy saving opportunities and take action to save energy.

Coffins and caskets

Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certified wood is used in many of our coffins and caskets. Evolving our eco range, we continue to offer a range of eco coffins and caskets for cremated remains and burials. These are handcrafted from natural and biodegradable materials and are especially popular for woodland burials.

Our community

Our Love Your Neighbourhood programme enables colleagues in our funeral homes to play a genuine and active role in our local communities, whether through providing funds for charities and good causes, volunteering or fundraising activities.

Through this programme we aim to support local causes addressing greener, safer, healthier and more inclusive themes, which we know are the building blocks of a great neighbourhood.

Our people

Our business success ultimately depends on our people. Their commitment to our business and the service they provide to our clients is what sets us apart from other businesses.

We in turn are committed to developing our colleagues and their skills through apprenticeships and industry-specific qualifications.

Working ethically

In line with our business aims and principles, we demand the highest ethical standards when sourcing the products and services we sell and use within our business. We work in partnership with our suppliers to ensure our products are sourced in an ethical and sustainable way.

Championing responsible business

United Nations Sustainable Development Goals

We are a responsible, local business, but it's important that we play our part in supporting the global sustainability agenda. The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) focus on, and address, the world's biggest challenges and are a universal call to action to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure that all people enjoy peace and prosperity.

The UN is calling on businesses to more actively engage with these goals so we have aligned Our Plan to support the delivery of these by 2030. There are three goals we are focussing on as a priority: Sustainable Cities and Communities (11), Responsible Consumption and Production (12) and Climate Action (13).

As well as making our own sustainability commitments, we will collaborate with existing partners, such as Business in the Community to champion responsible business and promote this agenda regionally.

Eco funeral package

An alternative to traditional burials and funeral services is an eco-friendly or "green" funeral. Eco funerals are quickly becoming a popular choice as we all become more aware and concerned about our carbon footprint - even in death. These types of funerals use less harmful or wasteful materials in the end-to-end funeral process.

Our eco funeral package is fully inclusive of all the necessary services you require. In addition to your standard attended funeral charges, this package also includes:

- Dressing of your loved one and the coffin in an environmentally friendly shroud and lining

Child funerals

Please note the following pages are specifically designed for child funerals.

When a baby or child dies, it is one of the most devastating things that can happen. We recognise how deeply distressing this can be for you and your family. We want you to know that we are here to help, guide and support you in whatever funeral you decide for your baby or child.

Children's Funeral Fund for England

The UK government has created the Children's Funeral Fund for England which means that a funeral for a child under 18 or a baby stillborn after the 24th week of pregnancy can be arranged without worrying about some of the costs. These include burial or cremation fees, medical certification and a coffin or casket (up to the value of £300). You don't have to worry about claiming for this fund, our team will do all of this on your behalf.

More information can be found about this here - gov.uk/child-funeral-costs.

Our services - free of charge

In addition to the Children's Funeral Fund for England, we have opted to include the following services for children under the age of 18 or a baby stillborn after the 24th week of pregnancy free of charge:

- Necessary legal and administrative arrangements (see page 80)
 - Collecting and transporting the deceased (see page 81)
 - Care of the deceased person (see page 81)
 - Transport to venue in hearse or other appropriate vehicle (see page 6-17)
 - Viewing of the deceased
 - Some third-party fees (see page 82, section C).
- Speak to one of our funeral co-ordinators for details.

Thoughts to consider

- Making a memory box can be very helpful and mean different things to different people. It can be a place to store your special keepsakes such as photos, a letter you have written, baby clothes, artwork or a favourite toy
- A lock of hair may be able to be taken for a personal keepsake
- Toys, photographs, letters, flowers etc. can be placed in the coffin
- Consider what your baby or child could be dressed in. This maybe a favourite outfit, baby-grow, jeans/tshirt etc
- An estate car or limousine can be used for a baby or small child, instead of a hearse
- For a baby's burial, ribbons can be used to lower the coffin into the grave
- At the funeral, our colleagues can wear colourful ties, instead of black
- If the baby or child is to be buried, there are a wide range of memorials available from teddies, fairies, Superman, cars etc. (subject to local terms and conditions)
- Themed personalised coffins/cremated remains caskets can be made with a favourite Disney or TV character, a rainbow, a favourite holiday photograph etc. (subject to local terms and conditions)

Please remember, whatever you choose for your baby or child, we are here every step of the way for you from the funeral arrangement and beyond with our Bereavement Care team (see page 56). We realise you may need us just as much after the funeral, as during the funeral arrangement itself, and we will be here to help.

Picture coffins enable you to create a personalised design to reflect your child's special life. We have a wide range of designs for all ages, featuring favourite colours, different sports and popular characters. Should none of our many designs not be suitable, a full bespoke design service is available and can include family photographs or drawings.

Nursery rhymes & bedtime stories

Children's rhymes and stories can be a great starting point to gather inspiration. Be it a religious parable, a fairy tale or a nursery rhyme, the imagery within can produce a beautiful crib that holds a special meaning.

Cartoon characters & cherished toys

Many youngsters have a special fondness for a specific character or favourite toy. An image of a particular teddy or doll which was cherished by your loved one or a particular game you shared together can become a special point of focus within any design.

Cherished Gowns

Cherished Gowns UK is a charity that provides families of babies that are stillborn, miscarried or die shortly after birth with items of clothing that they are able to be dressed in, for their funeral - completely free of charge.

The registered charity (No. 1172482) works closely with almost 250 NHS hospitals and directly with funeral homes on behalf of parents to provide packs that include a gown, hat, booties, blanket and a cloth nappy. All of the cherished items have been lovingly made by volunteers from all over Great Britain, and all of the gowns provided are made from generously donated wedding dresses. Since the charity started, over 100,000 gowns have been made from approximately 200,000 wedding dresses and over 250,000 items donated by knit and crochet volunteers.

If you would like to know more about this service or enquire about a free of charge pack, please speak to one of our funeral co-ordinators or visit cherishedgowns.org.uk.
